JACOB THOMPSON HOUSE - 7 MAIN ST. – MONSON, MA

FEATURING

THE “HIRED MAN’S QUARTERS”

The Society has been hard at work refurbishing and recreating the Hired Man’s Quarters at the Jacob Thompson House. This attic room space was set aside for the caretaker of the property during the time that Jacob Thompson occupied the residence. This room may have also been used afterwards to house students attending the Monson Academy School. The public is invited and this is a free event. Voluntary donations will be accepted and refreshments will also be served.

Come visit the historic Thompson house and view all of the other changes that have taken place inside and out, due to grants received from Monson’s Community Preservation Act. The Jacob Thompson House, built in 1811, is currently in the process of being placed on the National Register of Historic Places.
